About the Academy

The International Academy of Law and Mental Health (IALMH) is founded on the belief that issues arising from the interaction of law and mental health can best be addressed through multidisciplinary and cross-jurisdictional approaches, drawing on law, the health professions, social sciences, and humanities. Members of the Academy receive a subscription to the International Journal of Law and Psychiatry (Elsevier Science), which is now in its 25th year of publication and issued six times per year.

ABOUT THE 28th CONGRESS

Pre-Conference: Medicine and Industry: Changing Paradigms in Health Law, Policy and Ethics Sept. 28-29, 2003

Following in the tradition established by the Academy since its inaugural Pre-Conference on "Personhood" in Paris (1998), a special two-day symposium on the topic of "Medicine and Industry" will precede the 28th Congress. The Academy is pleased to honour The Hon. Justice Michael D. Kirby of the High Court of Australia as the recipient of this year's Prix Yves Pélacier and who will deliver the Pélacier Address. Please consult the Congress web site for further programme and registration details.

Plenary: Social Justice within Diversity Sept. 30, 2003

The Academy is honoured to present a distinguished multidisciplinary gathering of Australian and international experts who will explore the challenging theme of "Social Justice within Diversity" (see programme opposite). We are also delighted to honour Madam Justice Brenda Hale of the Royal Courts of Justice, United Kingdom, as the recipient of the Academy's Prix Philippe Pinel. A reception hosted by the New South Wales State Government will follow the Plenary. Further information and full abstract details are available on the Congress web site.

Parallel Sessions of the Academy Oct. 1-3, 2003

Over these three days, more than 250 speakers will present papers on new developments and research on a broad range of topics. Sessions have been carefully organised around a number of inter-related themes (see programme opposite). Colleagues are encouraged to register for the entire Congress, which includes the Plenary Day, or for specific day themes that appeal to their professional or academic interests. A special effort has been made to provide affordable registration rates, including a reduced charge for students, with lunches included in all cases. The closing banquet will provide a further opportunity for delegates to interact with the assembled speakers. Please consult the Congress web site for further details about individual speakers and abstracts.

Workshops and Continuing Education Seminars

The Academy is pleased to offer a number of workshops and continuing education seminars throughout the Congress. For further details, please consult the Congress web site.
